General Notes: Baptismal record shows abode to be Haxtes Lodge. This may have been a temporary residence where Ralph & Susan stayed with Ralph Ludlow for the baptism. Their main abode would probably have been Roborough House in Roborough, Devon (Jump as it was called then).

Also, according to the IGI, he was born in Westbury. They may have travelled from there for the baptism.

Ralph Ludlow Lopes. Bom Sept. 9th, 1820. Died Feb. 28th, 1898, aged 77. Buried at Melksham. He was the son of Sir Ralph Lopes, second baronet of Maristowe, Devon, by his marriage with Susan Gibbs, d. of Abraham Ludlow, of Heywood, Wilts. He was educated at Winchester and Christchurch, Oxford. B. A., 1844. M. A. and called to the Bar, 1847. Married, 1851, Elizabeth, third daughter of Samuel Trehawk Kekewich, M.P., of Peamore, Devon. His two sons, Ralph Kekewich and Henry Ludlow predeceased him. His third son, George, and daughter, Julia, survive him. He took for many years a very prominent part in county business - J.P. and D.L. He was High Sheriff of Wilts in 1869 ; Recorder of Devizes, 1877 to 1887; and Chairman of Wilts Quarter Sessions for some eleven years. He, however, retired from public life before the County Council came into existence. He purchased the Sandridge Park Estate, and built the house soon after his marriage, and always took the warmest interest in local matters - the revival of the Melksham Agricultural Society and the formation of the Melksham Rifle Corps being very largely due to him. Obit, notices, Standard, Mar. 2nd ; Devises Gazette, Mar. 3rd, 1898. [Wiltshire archaeological and natural history magazine]

Marriage Notes: Marriage not found in LMA

These two were first cousins as their respective fathers were brothers.

QUEEN Magazine 27th November 1897

St.Paul's Church,Knightsbridge,London.was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday last,when Mr.George Lopes,only surviving son of Mr.and Mrs.Ralph Ludlow Lopes,of Sandridge Park,Melksham,was married to his cousin,the Hon. Ernestine Lopes,fourth daughter of the Right Hon.Lord Ludlow,of Heywood, Westbury,Wilts.The chancel is so ornate that nothing is needed to enhance its beauty,but a few graceful palms and white flowers placed about the rood and steps gave the finishing touch to the interior.The bride,who was accompanied by her father.looked charming in a gown of oyster white satin Duchesse, embroidered in silver.diamonds and chenille.The Court train was of ivory brocade in a trefoil design,and was lightly sprinkled all over with diamonds. A Brussels lace veil was arranged over a wreath of orange blossoms and secured with a diamond flaming star,the gift of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's train was borne by a little goddaughter of the bridegroom,and by a page;the former in an Empire frock of white satin,with a chiffon fichu,and large drawn satin picture hat with ostrich feathers;and the later in a Court page's suit of white satin,with a cape of turquoise veloure glace,and white felt hat with a diamond buckle and long feathers. These two costumes were made by Mrs.J.E.Stuart,31 Somerset Street,W.
